

Having worked with Steve Windsor on a previous project at Hunter Plastics Ltd, we were contacted by CONSULTEK to get involved in a new project at Marley Waterproofing in Kent.

At the time CONSULTEK were providing divisional management services to Marley Waterproofing and were driving beneficial changes to the way the division was run, as well as managing specific projects, including the one we were involved with. This project was high risk with specific challenges that had to be overcome.

Steve Windsor has strong project management skills and always maintained professionalism and efficiency which he filtered out to all parties involved, ensuring a smooth running programme.

We would always welcome the opportunity to work with CONSULTEK and would certainly recommend them to all potential new clients and sub-contractors alike.
